Orange County Hunt Club's New Quarters.

(Special to The Evening World GOSHEN, N. Y., April 28.-The Orange County Hunt Club, of which E. H. Har riman and J. R. Townsend, of New Fork, are the chief officers, has rented the Richardson farm, near here, for the season. The handsome farm resi-dence will be used as headquarters for the hunt.

Alessen, Brooklyn's new catcher, gives every remise of developing into one of the best backtops in the country. He has a good arm, and on its way to centre field Jackson, had called on Kitson to but it apparently one of the fellows who uses his way to centre field Jackson, without pause, kept on for third. Dolan, out in centre, got it all right, but
